

Professional influencer

Business advisors analyse problems and potential risks businesses are facing. Using the latest technology and real-time data helps them become more efficient and manage business needs.

Recommended school subjects

Accounting, business studies, agricultural studies

Required study

Bachelor degree or higher in Accounting, Commerce, Management, Business Information Systems, Economics Science, Mathematics or Arts with a CA qualification

Key skills

- Strong business and commercial awareness
- Work under tight deadlines
- Communication
- Interpersonal skills
- Problem solving
- Risk management
- Diplomacy
- Ability to work with a range of stakeholders

Ability to work overseas

Where could you work?

- Accounting firms of any size – from small to large
- Opportunities to cross-skill to become a business and technology advisor

Salary

Average AU: $82,000,
NZ: $71,000 for up to 4 years¹

